

St. Mary's Grant Report

Our event went exactly as planned. On November 7, 2017, we held a public interest lawyering speakers panel with 3 speakers: (1) Mr. Philip Moss of Equal Justice Center (employment law); (2) Ms. Cristen Cates for RAICES (Immigration Law) and (3) Marissa Sandoval from Caritas Catholic Charities Pro Bono Legal Services. Each spoke for about 10 minutes each, which was then opened up to the floor for a Q&A session. In a rolling fashion, we had 35 attendees and the budget apportioned to supply food for the event was perfect. We as officers are confident that event was informative and had a profound impact on those interested in public interest lawyering.

I am also the ABA Sexual Orientation and Gender Identity (SOGI) Entity Student Liaison. I began the meeting by informing the audience that this event was funded by the ABA Law Student Division and went through the benefits of becoming a premier ABA member, as well as introducing all of the opportunities for leadership positions, ABA rep positions, as well as scholarship and contest opportunities.

Enclosed, please find the fliers that we used to promote the event that all state that this event was funded by the ABA. Also please find enclosed a copy of the receipt for the food that supplied to all those who attended the speakers panel.

We greatly look forward to working with you again in the future and for all your help in making this first-of-its kind event for a student organization in its first year of inception a resounding success overall!

Respectfully Submitted,
