Dear Colleagues:

My name is Jireh Davis, and I am running for Vice Chair of the Law Student Division of the American Bar Association. I am a second-year student at the Texas Southern University, Thurgood Marshall School of Law in Houston, Texas. I graduated from the University of Florida in 2019 with Bachelor of Arts degrees in both Political Science and African American Studies. Originally, I hail from Dallas, Texas.

I currently serve as the Delegate of Diversity and Inclusion for the Law Student Division of the American Bar Association. In these times, the Law Student Division has helped to lead, not only law students, but the entire legal profession through this global pandemic. In my role, I have been able to provide support to law student organizations through our grant fund, sponsor or co-sponsor meaningful and impactful resolutions that will create a better legal community, and push forward diversity and inclusion initiatives.

My myriad of experiences, as seen on my resume, can speak to my ability to conform to anything that is asked of me. This ability fully extends to the Vice Chair position. I am a hard-working, innovate, and passionate team player. I plan to bring everything I have learned along the way to continue to push the American Bar Association towards being the most forward-facing and inclusive organization that it can be.

Thank you so much for your time and consideration.
